WORD FROM The President

Dear friends,

The world is seeing a crisis of unprecedented nature and effects. All the scenarios experienced up until now have been suddenly overwhelmed by this unstoppable chain of events. This prompts me to share a few thoughts with you. The first one is the pride I feel for what an extraordinary organization Logiflex is, thanks to all of you and our employees. We are united by a common culture of discipline, flexibility, and co-operation that makes us unbeatable in the face of events like this, in the face of adversity. There is no doubt that this crisis is going to bring about irreversible changes in the ways that we think and work. Together we will be able to meet these challenges, with the help of all of you, as well as that of our customers, partners, providers, and representatives.

I also wish to express my most heartfelt thanks to each and every one of you, the people of furniture industry. Especially to those of you who work every day to keep your facilities and businesses operating. You are all setting an extraordinary example of commitment, professionalism, and solidarity. You are the best guarantee that, united, we will emerge from this crisis stronger.

Kind regards,

Yan Sinclair
President Logiflex

WORKING FROM HOME?

HERE'S SOME RECOMMENDATIONS:

WORKSPACE

Set up a designated space with office-quality furniture. Your desk should be at an appropriate height and sturdy enough to support the weight of all your equipment. Lighting should be bright, but not blinding.

FIND A GOOD CHAIR

Every part of the chair should be adjustable. Make sure the lumbar support, elbow rests and seat height can adapt to you and the way you move throughout the day. Use a footrest or something to elevate your feet if they do not comfortably reach the floor.

LISTEN TO YOUR BODY

New pressure points can help you pinpoint tweaks you need to make. If your neck hurts, make sure to raise your monitor's height and use a headset or speaker to maintain a neutral neck posture when you are on the phone.

MENTAL HEALTH

Stay connected and keep in touch with your colleagues. Avoid overworking that could lead to a burnout by taking short breaks as you would at the office. A little stroll to the printer or a chat with a co-worker gives you the chance to change positions, which will not happen at home.

GETTING YOUR WORKPLACE READY

ADD DIVISIONS

- By adding screens or panels in front, beside and behind people.
- The higher, wider and more easily cleanable the better.
- You must create physical distancing.

Acrylic is a non-porous material and is easily washed.

ADD BARRIERS

- By adding hutches in-between people.
- By creating physical distancing.
- By adding storage elements, plants or partitions.

Under the hutch dividers are 24" high. Side dividers are 21" high.

- Add divisions and barriers with screens and panels in front, beside and behind. The higher, the wider and the more easily cleaned, the better.
- Change geometry by reorient workstations away from standard linear approach reducing sitting face-to-face.
- Propose 120-degree workstations as they offer a lot of privacy and help reduce distractions.
- Prioritize video conferencing and use available rooms to create video conference spaces.
- Work from home longer than expected. Make sure you have ergonomic furniture, work tools and adequate light. Return to work in waves and practice social distancing.
- Reduce density in meeting rooms and consider removing chairs around tables.
- Provide visual cues to identify appropriate social distance.
- Use easy to clean fabrics such as the grade 3 Whisper vinyl the Logiflex In-Stock program offers, acrylic, laminate, HPL, etc.
- Sanitation stations are imperative to maintaining a clean work environment.
- Clean-in / cleaning-out policy must be reinforced.
- Handwashing is a critical – you must wash your hands as often as you can.

Its features enable residential institutions to welcome residents in a safe, clean and contemporary environment. Logilife's various collections are sure to create a warm and stylish space in addition to offering seniors and their families comfort and peace of mind.

PATIENT ROOM FURNITURE

Designed for small areas, the Logilife day bed makes the most of limited space. Its dual-purpose design gives family and friends a place to sit and chat or to rest comfortably at their loved one's bedside.

Health care professionals and managers of hospitals and long-term care facilities were reunited around a common objective: to create aesthetically pleasing bedroom furniture that would meet the sanitary needs of the health care sector while creating comfortable and inviting living environments. The Logilife series of bedroom furniture brings to mind the warmth and coziness of home to foster residents' happiness and comfort.

Logilife's seats come with a vinyl moisture barrier and aerators that cover, and protect the underside of the seat. This easy to clean surface protects the chair from liquids and allows air circulation to the cushion. To prolong Logilife's seats longevity, an optional clearance space between the backrest and seat cushion can be specified to facilitate cleaning and maintenance.

Antimicrobial properties - In-Stock Fabrics

Whisper is the vinyl of choice for health care because of its antimicrobial properties.
